

Kinsight

Ministry of Children and Development

B.C. Nurse Hotline — Call 8-1-1

8-1-1 is a free provincial health information and advice line. You can speak to a health service professional who can help you find information and services; or connect you directly with a registered nurse, a registered dietitian, a qualified exercise professional, or a pharmacist.

New Westminster Children's Centre
Kingsight
811 Royal Avenue, N.W.
604-521-8078
kinsight.org

Fraser Health Public Health Offices
#218—610 6th Street, N.W.
604-777-6740
fraserhealth.ca/your-community/
newwestminster/

This brochure was created by the Kids New West Child Development Committee.

Email: info@kidsnewwest.ca

Web: kidsnewwest.ca

Western Society for Children
#420-604 Columbia St, N.W.
604-515-0810
wsfc.ca

Early Childhood Mental Health Services
B.C. Child & Family Services
1065 Columbia Street, N.W.
604-660-9495
gov.bc.ca

Concerned about your child's development?

There are many programs and services in New Westminster that can help!

Kids
New West

Growing concerns....

Sometimes children need extra help to grow and learn. They may be born prematurely, have health problems or have problems seeing, hearing, talking, playing or moving. Families of these children are often referred to special programs and services to help their children develop to their full potential. If you live in New West and you have concerns about your child's development, help is available.

For other concerns including language, physical, behavioural, and mental health issues, call:

New Westminster Children's Centre (Kinsight)

Call 604-521-8078

Occupational, physical and speech-language therapy

The NWCC Offers programs for infants, young children and families and can provide the services of Occupational, Physical and Speech-language therapists. If you are unsure which services your family needs, contact the New Westminster Children's Centre.

Kids
New West

Start by calling the Public Health Nurses!

New Westminster Public Health Nurses

604-777-6740

Call this number for any concerns

If you have concerns about your child's development, start by calling the Public Health Nurses. They know which services and programs are available in your community and how to access them. Fraser Health's Public Health Nurses can help your family with health concerns, parenting questions, and child growth and development.

Early Childhood Mental Health Services,

Call 604-660-9495

Assistance with mental health issues

ECMH is a provincial government organization that offers help with mental health issues such as problems bonding with parents or when the child has a difficult temperament.

Western Society for Children

Call 604-515-0810

Disabilities and development issues

WSCC offers individualized, direct services or support and advocacy for the daily needs of families of children with developmental challenges.

